Cora Amick came home from the Western Maryland Hospital last week very much improved.

BOOKER WASHINGTON, GREAT EDUCATOR OF NEGRO RACE DEAD

Born a Slave On Plantation, Became Famous For Work For His Race.

Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator and author, died at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, Sunday morning, November 14. Shortly after his arrival there from New York city, where he was taken ill with nervous prostration due to arterio sclerosis. Booker Taliaferro Washington, in his book "My Own Story," said: "I am not quite sure of the date or place of my birth, but it occurred in Franklin county, Virginia, and the year was 1858 or 1859. Of my ancestry I know almost nothing. Booker Washington named himself. When he first went to school the other children had a surname and he had only the name of Booker. So when the school teacher asked Booker's name he seized upon the first name of his stepfather, Washington Ferguson, and inserted Taliaferro as he recalled an old family name of that section where he was raised.

When freedom scattered the slaves and they established their own settlements they continued the shipboard ways familiar to them. They were poor and ignorant and Washington himself grew up accustomed to bitter discomforts and burdens. Education was hard to get at. He taught himself the alphabet, and little by little obtained some night schooling. When he heard of Hampton School for Negroes in Virginia his soul was on fire to go there and fit himself for a career of some sort by obtaining a genuine education. He was 500 miles away from his goal when he started for it, and much of the way he traversed on foot often hungry and sleeping sometimes in the streets. He met General Armstrong and under his auspices he developed rapidly the natural resources which made him the champion of his race.

Washington studied hard and made rapid progress at Hampton. He early conceived the idea that the greatest service he could render mankind would be the uplifting of the people of his own race. He felt that the negro should stand on a higher plane and set himself the task of installing qualities of thrift and learning in the race. He was graduated from Hampton Institute in 1875 and became a teacher there. Then he went South, where he bought land in Alabama, and organized Tuskegee Institute for the teaching of negroes. The main work of his life since then was in connection with this school, which won countrywide fame. Washington was regarded with the highest esteem by educators and men generally high in public life. He received degrees from Harvard and Dartmouth, and was held in friendly regard by many of the nation's most prominent citizens. His dining with President Roosevelt at the White House was the first recorded time that such a privilege had been accorded a negro. Going abroad, Washington was received with much interest and honored by royalty.

Birthday Party

The many friends of Mrs. Alexander Davis rendered her a surprise at her home at Yellow Creek, Saturday evening, November 13. It being her 38 birthday. THOMAS FISHER BAILEY

Howard L. Butz's Tribute in Huntingdon Monitor

One of the hottest judicial contests ever fought out in the Juniata Valley terminated at the polls on Tuesday night, when Thomas F. Bailey of Huntingdon defeated Joseph M. Woods of Lewistown for President Judge by about 1,100 majority. It was a contest that had wickers on it from start to finish, in which fathers differed from their sons, husbands from wives, brothers from brothers and friends from friends. But now it is all over. The differences of several months will soon be forgotten, as they should be, and the cordial domestic and fraternal relations of the past, somewhat marred by the strenuous campaign and honest differences of opinion, will be resumed.

Emma May Foor

Emma May Foor, wife of Charles Foor, died at her late home near Charlesville, Wednesday evening, November 10. She was born November 7, 1888 at Everett, and was married to Charles Foor six years ago. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Vernon Calvin and Charles Philip. She is also survived by the following brothers and sisters, Frank Norris, of Sandy Run, Andrew Norris of Madley, Wm. Norris of Everett, Grant Norris of Charlesville, and Mrs. Kathryn Flinch of Graceville, Minerva Flinch of Gapsville, Mary Mills of Everett, Elizabeth Spencer of Ray's Cove, Jennie Dean, Rena College and Clara Norris of Akron, Ohio. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Benjamin F. Hilbish, pastor of the Wolfburg M. E. charge. Interment was made at Trans Run.

Samuel S. Price

Samuel S. Price, of Monroe township, was taken to the Blair Memorial hospital last Friday evening on the 6:40 train by his son, John Price. He died in that institution at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning, November 13. At the station on Friday evening he was able to walk to the transfer. It was thought he had typhoid fever. After arrival at the hospital, he had a hemorrhage, which was the immediate cause of his death. He was first taken ill about election day, and gradually became weaker, so that he asked to be taken to the hospital.

He was the son of Alex Price and was born in Bedford county on March 28, 1852, and at the time of his death, he was in his 64th year. He was a farmer by occupation. He is survived by his wife, five daughters and three sons, namely: Mrs. Samuel Stiles, Mrs. Guy Lutz, both of Indiana county, Pa.; Mrs. Asbury N. Price, of Bedford; Mrs. Jacob Gordon of Snake Spring Valley; William Price, George Price, John Price and Miss Sadie Price, all at home.

Mr. Price was a member of the Christian church, and worshipped at the Black Valley union church. His remains were taken to Everett on Sunday morning and from there about six miles to his home in Monroe township.

Mrs. Charles Colledge

Mrs. Bessie Colledge died at her home at Langdendale on Monday, November 1, aged 26 years 11 months and one day. She was a daughter of Levi Smith of West Providence township, and her body was brought to his home on Tuesday. Funeral services were held at Cherry Lane on Wednesday, November 3. Rev. George Batzel officiating. Deceased is survived by her husband, Charles Colledge, of Langdendale and two small children. Her father and several brothers and sisters also survive her.

Bedford Grange Notes

Our rural credit idea seems to have met with unanimous approval in our community. Hon. W. W. Bailey requested our opinion and expressed his fear that a rural credit law would create "land-lordism." According to the way land-lordism was gaining from 1900 to 1910 we would now have 52% of the farms occupied by renters. With the unrest from this source in other nations our government should do something at once to relieve these conditions. But it is only by the rural people presenting a united front that we will ever be able to get any legislation to help us through.

Grange is beginning to show more active interest in problems of national interest and present day matters than has been shown during the busy summer season. A few personal letters to Congressman Bailey will be a great help to advance anything we want. When we hire a man to work we must tell him what we want done. Just the same with Congressmen.

We have a good program for November 24. Amongst other good things comes the discussion of military and naval preparedness. With known champions of Bryanism on one side and fire eating warriors on the other we can promise a very interesting session.

December 8 we will have our agricultural and horticultural exhibit; lay up your big corn and potatoes, apples, pears and everything of great size or of peculiar formation and bring them out for display.

Wilson Hissong, Lecturer.

Talented Deaconess and Evangelist Coming

The evangelistic meetings in the Methodist Episcopal Church are growing in interest and attendance. On Saturday Miss Minna Frickey, a Deaconess, and evangelistic speaker and worker from Washington, D. C., will arrive, and will assist the pastor in these meetings for the next week or ten days.

Miss Frickey is a teacher in the National Deaconess Training School in Washington, has traveled in Europe and the Holy lands, and has had experience in evangelistic work. She is an eloquent speaker and fine singer, accompanying her songs with the harp. She will speak in the Methodist Church Saturday evening, and both morning and evening on Sunday. The public are cordially invited.

Mrs. Charles Bennett

Mrs. Rosa Ellen Bennett died at her home in Everett on Saturday, October 30. She was a daughter of George and Sarah Jane Funk and was born October 19, 1860. She is survived by her husband, Charles Bennett, and two daughters, Martha, who has been employed as a trained nurse at Detroit, and Mary at home, near their married.

Birthday Party

Billie Reed, Jr., celebrated his fifth birthday anniversary Wednesday evening, November 17, by entertaining thirty of his little friends. The decorations were carried out in Thanksgiving style and there was an abundance of good things to eat. There were turkey favors for the little boys and baskets for the little girls. With the assistance of Miss Lizzie Bain the little folks had a good time playing games, etc. Those present were Jean and Betty Brice, Margaret Brice, Elaine Clark, Helen Cuppett, Leroy Cessna, Dorothy Diehl, Anna Mary Eyer, Katharine Ryan, Catherine Garbrick, Mary Henderson, Helen Heckerman, Ozena Irvine, Rebecca Minnich, Jeanette Naus, Helen Powell, Dorothy Van Ormer, Jane Weisel, Henry Strock, Hughes Moorehead, Freddie Yont, George Powell, Billy Weisel, Clarence Smith, Junior Risser, John Albert Minnich, Frank Jordan, Jordan Gates, Buddy Middleton and Paul Eyer.

The Supreme Test of the Christian Church in the World—Third Sermonic Lecture

The Presbyterian pastor will preach next Sunday evening on the Ante-Nicene Age, ending A. D. 325. The first part of the lecture will deal with the seven pitched battles between Christianity and the Roman Empire which ended in the utter defeat of the Caesars. The conversion of Constantine the Great will be described in connection with the story of his miraculous vision which led to the making of the first Christian flag. The second part will be a brief discussion of the question of Russia in the War, in which the 14 articles of the Will of Peter the Great will be given from an Arabic copy.

Temperance Test

The whole world, science, morality, business, even war has learned it is an advantage to abstain from alcoholic drink. Temperance does not mean abstinence from drink alone, but abstinence from rich food and bad habits, and from selfishness and jealousy.

In last Sunday's Sunday School lesson, we saw how Daniel, a hostage in exile, lived on "pulse" (seed food) instead of the rich meats and wine. That by fasting and self-denial, he developed clean thoughts and noble desires, which nourished him physically, mentally, and fixed the attitude of his heart. His reward was skill, vigor, good health, and ability to serve others, and this strengthened his faith.

If we fail to profit by all the admonitions of temperance, God punishes us for our wickedness of mind and body and lack of faith.

He sets one neighbor against another and punishes both. Note the present European war, caused by ambition, jealousy, pride, love of gain and favor. America is not free of sin, and in the same way we invite punishment by our greed and selfishness, and what defense is preparation by armament. If we practice not brotherly love and good will, which are the bulwarks of liberty.

What we need is Divine guidance to get the confidence of our neighbors.

On last Saturday night fire broke out and completely destroyed the dwelling of Nevin Diehl, County Commissioner, in Bedford Township on Chalybeate road. Mr. Diehl had retired and when he was awakened by the cracking and snapping of timbers, the kitchen part was way beyond any control and inroads were being made on the living and sleeping apartments. No clue is known as to the origin but it is supposed to come from a faulty flue or a spark from the stove. The loss was about $2,000, with insurance of $1,000.

They Are Going to Smoke Justice Hughes Out

United States Supreme Court Justice, Charles E. Hughes, has declared over and over that he would not be the Republican candidate for President in 1916, that he wanted to keep the personnel of the Supreme Court non-partisan, yet out in Nebraska petitions are circulating to have Hughes' name placed on the Republican primary ballot.

A great many applicants for public honors do not believe Justice Hughes is sincere in his declarations and that he will run if it can be made appear that it is forced upon him. However, that may be his determination can be made known now for the action of the Nebraskans will smoke him out. He will have to take legal action now to prevent his name from being printed on the ballot and a failure to do so means that he will accept. Any step he takes now will open him up to the people and all the second class fellows who are striving to have their names considered will know what to do in their own behalf.

Treat Catarrh By Nature's Method

Every Breath of Hyomei Carries Healing Medication Air to the Infected Membrane.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it with sprays, lotions, and the like. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes. Until recently your physician would probably have said the only way to help catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with a simple preparation called Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day successfully treat yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not give permanent relief, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained at any time for a trifling sum. It is more economical than all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

F. W. Jordan, Jr., has sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more he sells the more convinced he is that he is perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not relieve.—Ad. Nov. 5 & 19

WASHINGTON LETTER

Interesting Notes From Our Correspondent at National Capital.

Washington, D. C., November 18, 1915.—Arbitrary interference of Great Britain with American commerce not only within the war zone, but in the Far East, the blacklisting of vessels flying the American flag, followed by seizure and search and the pursuit of neutral vessels within the three-mile limit off the American coast are causing considerable anxiety in shipping circles throughout the country. The State Department, which has been appealed to by those directly affected, thus far has been able to obtain but little relief.

The practice of British cruisers lying off ports of the United States and stopping vessels, American as well as foreign, will doubtless be made the basis of a vigorous protest to Great Britain. State Department officials are displeased by the activities of the British cruisers as manifested in the seizure and detention of the steamer Hocking, and the pursuit of the American-owned steamer Vinland off Norfolk on the border of the three-mile limit. In all recent proclamations of neutrality the President states that such practice by belligerent warships is "unfriendly and offensive."

Handicapped by the lack of specific laws to protect the nation's neutrality, the Department of Justice has turned to one of its old standbys and is investigating alleged warplots with a view to instituting criminal proceedings under the Sherman antitrust act. Inquiries are directed more especially at plots supposed to have been formed in connection with efforts of pro-German and pro-Austrian sympathizers to cause strikes in munition plants in the United States. The department's theory is that if there is a conspiracy to interfere with the manufacture of munitions it is a conspiracy in restraint of interstate and foreign commerce. The investigations have not progressed far enough to enable officials to tell whether indictments can be obtained or to determine who is at the head of the conspiracy, if one exists.

It is indicated in official circles that the President has come to the conclusion that a supreme effort must be made to stamp out any propaganda, inspired by foreign agents, which is intended to interfere with American industries.

That the United States is obligated, in law as well as in morals, to pay the claims against Mexico that will be presented by the powers of Europe upon the establishment of a constitutional government south of the Rio Grande, is the opinion of Representative Frank Mundell, of Wyoming, one of the Republican leaders in the House. Mundell believes that these claims will aggregate somewhere in the neighborhood of half a billion dollars, and that they will be presented to the United States just about the close of the war, at a time when all of Europe will be pinched for money. The Republican leader made the charge that it is the United States had recognized Huerta when such action was taken by other powers, or thrown its support to Carranza when Huerta was driven from Mexico, the amount of the claims this country may be called upon to settle would have been materially diminished.

Representative Kitchin, Democratic majority leader of the House, who opposes the administration's national defense program, has declared his belief that it will succeed by a overwhelming majority. Representative Kitchin stated that the program "at one bound, in one year, increases our naval appropriation more than our total outlay for the

Try This If Hair Starts Falling

At this season of the year many people find their hair coming out at an alarming rate and often fear baldness. This may very easily be the ultimate result if proper scalp treatment is not taken at once. All excessive loss of hair can be almost immediately stopped by the use twice daily of a little Parsian Sage which invigorates and nourishes the dying hair roots into a renewal to healthy normal action. New hair quickly grows on the thin spots, old hair stops falling and the difference is apparent in a few days by the very look of the hair itself taking on a new life, lustre and beauty. Parsian Sage can be obtained from F. W. Jordan, Jr., or any good druggist. It is not expensive.

last fourteen years; more than the increase of Germany the whole fifteen years preceding the European war, and than the combined increase of all the nations of the world in any one year of their history. This sudden, radical and stupendous more for war preparation is going to shock the civilized world, and, whatever be the outcome of the present war, will alarm the world again into an armed camp.

Regular meetings of the cabinet, twice each week, have been resumed by direction of President Wilson. No meeting of the cabinet has been held since July 20, nearly four months ago, the longest skip in a gathering of the advisers of a President within the recollection of the oldest employees around the White House. Fewer cabinet meetings were held in the Wilson administration, prior to July 20, than for the same time in any other administration within the recollection of White House officials and employees. At the beginning of his administration President Wilson let it be known that the responsibilities of cabinet heads would devolve upon them more than in past administrations, and he would look to each cabinet officer for the proper handling of matters before each department. Individual conferences with the President rather than cabinet discussions became the rule.

President Wilson has ordered that all reports of cabinet officers and chiefs of bureaus be withheld from publication until he has read his annual message in Congress. This order is contrary to a time-honored custom with regard to annual reports of department heads and bureau chiefs, under which the reports were made public in advance of the conveying of Congress, on the theory that they received wider publicity and were better understood by the public.

Official figures made public by South Trimble, clerk of the House of Representatives, show that in the new House the Democrats will have a majority of thirty-four over the Republicans and twenty-five over all parties represented in that body. The roll call of the new House will be based upon the figures announced by its clerk. The list includes members elected to vacancies at this month's election. The political complexion of the new House is Democrats, 230; Republicans, 196; Progressives, 7; one Independent and one Socialist.

Work has been going on since early in the spring, after Congress adjourned, in repairing, cleaning and refurbishing the Capitol Building. With outside walls and pillars thoroughly drenched and cleaned by engine hose, interiors painted and refurnished and surrounded by new paving the halls of the Senate and House and the office buildings for the Senators and Representatives are spick and span, ready for winter occupants. The last summer was the first time in seven years that the national lawmaking body had taken a recess sufficiently long to permit improvements upon a large scale to be attempted. The total expense amounted to somewhere in the neighborhood of half a million dollars.

The filing of a nominating petition by Nebraska Republicans, most of the self-confessed converts from the bull moose faith, putting the name of Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hughes in nomination for the Presidency, may bring about the unique situation of forcing the associate justice to resort to a court of equity if he would save himself from becoming a candidate in 1916.

President Wilson was lost to Washington last Saturday. He left the White House before 10 o'clock in the morning in his automobile, went to the home of his fiancée, Mrs. Galt, and a short time later the two left for a long trip in the machine. The habit of disappearing from Washington Saturdays has become a permanent one with the President, who gives no hint of where he wants to go, except to his chauffeur.

Fourteen military and naval aids to the President will lend luster to White House receptions this winter. Aids during his first winter in the White House, it is rather significant that he has added another aid. It is suggested that the suggestion of a fair Virginia woman had something to do with it.

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles?

Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and heals the tender membranes of the throat.

Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Hyndman

November 16.—Mr. and Mrs. John Fair of near New Buena Vista, visited Mr. Fair's sister, Mrs. G. G. Kinton over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunlap spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Dunlap's mother, Mrs. Sarah Rizer, who is still growing weaker.

Ed. Kepner and Ed. Hillegass made a trip to Pittsburgh last week.

Rev. Ditmar called on friends here between trains Saturday.

Mrs. William Dunlap and son of Cumberland, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Horner.

County Superintendents Hinkle and Metzger spent Thursday and Friday visiting the schools of Hyndman and Londonderry Township.

Prof. C. P. Shriver and Prof. H. D. Metzger attended the educational meeting held in Bedford Saturday.

Rev. Kombar, a native of Turkey and a Christian missionary delivered two most interesting addresses in the Reformed Church last Sunday. His talks were instructive on the present conditions of his native country.

Mr. Colvin Brumbaugh, died early on Friday morning at his home in this place. He had been in poor health for some time but his condition was not considered dangerous until a short time ago.

Mr. M. H. Kramer, County President of the Sunday School Association, conducted a series of meetings in the various churches of our town last week. They were well attended and it is hoped the Sunday Schools will profit by them.

Golden Era for Labor

The approach of winter usually means lessened opportunity for labor to find profitable employment. The present season, however, is a noteworthy exception to this rule, for instead of decreasing, the demand for labor this fall, both skilled and unskilled, is constantly growing.

The U. S. Government Employment and Labor Distribution Branch, located at No. 135 South Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa., has on file hundreds of opportunities for workmen in various lines, and comparatively few applicants to meet the demand.

Commissioner of Immigration, E. E. Greenwalt, under whose supervision the Federal employment Bureau in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are operated, and who for the past thirty years has been closely identified with labor affairs, says that in all his experience he has never known a condition that could be compared with the present industrial activity. The year 1915, he declared, with all its frightful calamities, well nevertheless go down in history as marking an era of golden opportunity for labor in the United States of America.

The invaluable service rendered by this government Labor Bureau to both employer and those seeking work, is absolutely free of charge. The following live opportunities are now on file in the office of the Commissioner of Immigration, Philadelphia, Pa. Persons desiring to make application for any of these positions can obtain full particulars concerning same by applying either in person or by mail to the U. S. Labor Distribution Branch, at either No. 135 South Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa., or Berger Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Unlimited number of first-class machinists, tool makers, etc., good pay for various sections of Pennsylvania.

Laborers for foundries, stone quarries, sewer work, railroad workers, furnaces, cement workers, painters, etc.

First-class sheet metal workers, for Philadelphia.

Miners, mine laborers, machine mowers, etc. for coal mines in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Unlimited number wanted.

Machinists helpers, carpenters helpers, quarrymen, moulders, etc., for Western Pennsylvania.

Farm hands for Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and West Virginia.

Have a large number of calls from different sections for domestics at good pay.

A REVIVAL OF SKATING

A Popular Sport This Winter, Indoors and Out

The Pantalette Petticoat

New York, November 17.—It looks just now as if all the world would go on skates this winter just as all the world took up the dance craze last winter. Our Hippodrome is displaying some wonderfully attractive skating notions in its present show and many of the glass-enclosed roof gardens have taken up the fad, and are giving a skating cabaret instead of the dancing cabaret. The sport is wholesome and appeals to young and old.

Piquant Skating Costumes
Among the costumes particularly youthful and chic, are the box coats, worn with short flaring skirts and tasseled Tam-o'-Shanteers. The Norfolk model too, is much in favor and the sweater in some popular vivid tone combined with skirt of corduroy or tweed, is a prime favorite. Each of these suits allows the ease of movement so necessary to this sport, and the grace of lines so much sought after in all costumes.

Pantalette Costume

Fabrics favored for skating suits are tweed, in its various mixtures of soft browns, reds, and grays; sweater cloth warmly and vividly colored; lamb's wool, so light and warm; and numberless novelty wools and other fabrics favored for sports use. Corduroy should not be omitted; in wide and narrow wale, it is being used for both coat and skirt. The colors are pleasing and of course the wearing qualities of corduroy are too well known and appreciated to require mentioning. Corduroy lends itself particularly well to the belted Norfolk models for golfing and other out-of-door sports, as well as skating.

Coats Are Unlined

The belted Norfolk, the sweater coat, and the box model, now worn for sports are all of them unlined unless it be perhaps a shoulder yoke of satin or heavy silk as a sort of body foundation. This fact makes the fashioning of them at home a much simpler matter. Sport clothes, being more or less of a luxury, are of necessity expensive when purchased ready made; materials however may be purchased and the garment made at home very reasonably. A particularly effective suit seen recently was developed in a soft sage green English coating; it was reversible, the underside being checked in soft blues, greens, reds and browns. Collar, wide cuffs, lapels and belt were made with the checks outside; the coat was fastened with large brown leather buttons; a line of the buttons extend down the front of the skirt. The various styles of collars too, so much a part of the new coats, are particularly adapted to real out-of-door wear. The wide chin collar, coming well up about the throat and ears is becoming and wonderfully warm and practical. The throw scarf of the same material as the coat, or of a fur fabric, often attached directly to the coat itself, is a practical and comfortable notion; what could be more ideal for skating than the wide muff cuff, into which one may slip the hands and remove them instantly if necessary, doing away entirely with the danger of losing a valuable muff and also the inconvenience of carrying one when the hands may be put to better use.

Pantalettes for Skating

Few of us but will appreciate the practical side of the pantalette petticoat for skating and out-of-door wear. These pantalettes are generally made of heavy satin in the same tone as the suit, or skirt, and for skating, dancing and the numerous other purposes for which they are equally well suited, are trimmed with fur; then again the pantalettes are of silk, satin, or sateen, the lower part being faced with the same material as the suit. A dark blue corduroy skirt combined with a beautifully colored silk sweater with tasseled sash ends and fur-trimmed collar, worn over dark blue satin pantalettes edged with dull gold braid, was unusually chic.

Box Coat Suit

just a glimpse is caught now and then of these fascinating accessories, as the wearer flashes by on her shining skates, or dips in the dance.

The Natty Tam-o'-Shanter

Velvet, fur, fur-cloth, lamb's wool and the material of the suit are all used effectively in these charming little caps. Some are made Mandarin fashion with just a round ball of fur directly on the top by way of trimming; others have a hanging tassel of silk, and still others are woven with the very long, tasseled end of the Tyrolean skater's cap. Some of these are in black, but the majority are in a bright snide, orange, emerald green, royal blue, scarlet, or purple. The lamb's wool caps in these bright colors are particularly effective.

FRANK I. HORNE
BEDFORD, PA.

James B. Connolly's story, "The Medicine Ship," in the Christmas Scribner, is a wonderful yarn of the sea. The things that happened on the good ship Tropic Zone, as told by Bill, the one-time cabin-boy, to young Wallie Whelan, were certainly rather remarkable. The valley of the Yunzano was a marvelous valley.

There was a river gleamin' like silver—an' sometimes like gold 'n' copper—flowin' through that marvelous valley, an' above it rose the volcanic mountains with sides of the color of the purple negligay shirts an' tops like the ruby scarfpins that sometimes you see of a mornin' in Times Square. An' in that valley was forests with all the poplar trees that ever you read of, bearin' the most jol-luscious fruits—pomgranants, coconuts, pineapples, limes, lemons, grapefruits, alligator-pears—any fruit ever you see to the stalls in the market was there in abundance. An' fr'm the branches o' them same trees came the most melojus birds' voices, an' the birds themselves 'd a-dazzle your eyes with the color o' their feathers. Parakeets, marakeets, bobalinks, lightgales, an' a little red, white, 'n' blue spotted bird the natives called an eggleno."

November 10 — Miss Margaret Horne of near New Buena Vista was a recent guest of her brother, J. H. Horne and family.

Mrs. Margaret Shaffer is spending a week at Greensburg.

Miss Jessie Clark returned last week from a short visit with relatives at Johnstown.

Mrs. Hannah Eberhart of Washington is visiting her father, D. H. Darr, at the Western Hotel. She and her father spent Sunday with friends at Roaring Spring.

John Culp and wife, Robert Fisher and Mrs. Annie Culp spent Sunday with the latter's daughter, Mrs. Upton Brant, of Dry Ridge.

O. S. Jamison and wife with several other friends of Avalon were welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Colvin on Sunday.

George L. Daley, wife and daughter Christine of Windler spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. T. H. Rock.

J. P. Statler, wife and daughter and a number of other friends of Somerset and Miss Kate Williams of Schellsburg took supper Sunday evening at the Western Hotel.

The Lutheran S. S. celebrated Luther Day on Sunday evening by giving a very good program to a full house.

There are some party or parties in our town who have changed the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal" to "Thou shalt steal," and who not only glide out in the darkness to take that which is not their own but who while their neighbor is away will, in broad daylight, visit his hen house or take anything else he saw. Such people should be locked up.

Guy Colvin of Everett spent Sunday with home folks.

George Hiner and wife of Altoona spent a day or so with his brother, Albert Hiner.

H. N. Shoemaker and wife and Mrs. C. Gumbert were in Bedford Tuesday afternoon.

Harvey Snively had the misfortune to get his leg broken between the knee and ankle.

Milk and Kerosene

YOU discriminate in the choice of your milk, yet to the uninitiated all milks look and taste about the same. But you know differently. You realize that some cows yield better, creamier and more healthful milk than others and that methods of caring for and keeping milk differ.

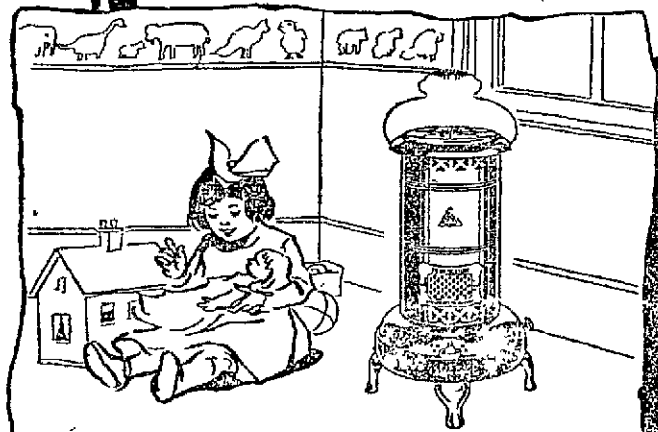

You know about milk—that's why you're particular; but are you equally well acquainted with kerosene? If you are, your choice is certain to be

ATLANTIC Rayolight OIL

Why? Because it's refined and re-refined by oil experts, by men who know how to use methods that get every little bit of good out of the finest crude petroleum Mother Earth yields.

Atlantic Rayolight Oil is made right—it's a pure kerosene. It burns without smoke or smell, it doesn't char nor spoil wicks, but it does yield an intense heat and a brilliant light, and it burns slowly and economically.

Ask your grocer for it by name, because now, for the first time, you can buy kerosene whose makers you know and upon whose goodness you can implicitly rely. What's more, its price is identical with ordinary kerosene.

Get a PERFECTION Smokeless Oil Heater and say good-bye to that breeder of colds—a bleak, draughty hall.

These heaters are invaluable—their uses are manifold. They keep every part of the home comfy—yes, especially that spot that for half the year nothing seems to make habitable.

The initial cost of a Perfection Smokeless Heater is small and, if Atlantic Rayolight Oil is used, its upkeep is little. Its appearance is handsome and you can get one at almost any dealer's.

Atlantic Rayolight Oil is wonderfully useful for purposes other than lighting or heating—a few drops in the water when washing windows or mirrors will give them a beautiful polish.

How do you use it? Maybe you know a way that'll get you something worth while. You never can tell.

Clean Milk

Not many years ago everybody kept a cow. Now-a-days the city dweller's milk may have been hauled across two or three states before the milk bottle finally comes to rest upon the door step.

The majority of people seem to feel that if their milk is fresh it is likewise clean. Unfortunately nothing could be further from the truth. Dirty dairies and unclean handling is far too common. In the majority of smaller communities there is little or no supervision of dairy farms and dealers.

As a result milk is often the agent by which disease is transmitted. Typhoid fever, septic sore throat, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and other communicable diseases can readily be spread along the milk man's route. This is particularly true where the insanitary practice is followed of filling the empty bottles, which have been set out by customers, and delivering them at other houses, instead of taking them back to the dairy for proper cleansing and sterilization.

There are many instances on record where extensive typhoid epidemics have been traced to this practice.

Where city milk supplies are obtained from a wide spread territory covering several states, inspection of the individual dairy farm becomes almost an impossibility and pasteurization offers the only effective method of protection to insure milk free from disease germs. This does not necessarily mean clean milk.

Milk produced in states where the dairy farm scarcely efficiently supervised by state inspectors is to be preferred. When the cleanliness of the raw milk is assured it is to be desired and is more easily digested than milk which has been pasteurized.

Every action in handling of milk and the care of the dairy stock is important. If an absolutely clean supply is to be assured we must have healthy cattle properly cared for, cleanliness in milking and in handling of the milk and the maintenance of the proper temperature from the time it is brought in by the milker until it is consumed.

If you have ever known and loved a dog you will enjoy a "Point of View," in the Christmas Scribner, on "Some Dogs."

"I have no dog now, but I sometimes pretend I have. It is an easy thing to pretend. I imagine him lying before the fire, close beside me so that I can put out my foot to nudge his hairy back. He understands that I am telling him I love him. I think of him as waiting—a gentle, pensive squire—how patiently he endures that fearful creation of time, an interval. I see him on a tramp—a joyous series of important explorations of the trivial. There is a frenzy of joy on his long galloping dashes in open country, his perpetual 'skinning under' fences, his sudden pursuits of a slow-rising bird. He reveals an ecstatic vigor even in the biting of a burr from his tail. But, most of all, I love him when from the midst of these alarms and excursions, in red-tongued happiness he comes scurrying back—to me."

The Christmas Scribner has a colored cover and a number of pictures reproduced in color. The frontispiece, "The Mother," is from a painting by Elmore Plaised Abbott. One of Wyeth's paintings for Connolly's story of "The Medicine Ship" is one of the most imaginative and decorative things this sterling artist has done. Mr. Wyeth has well merited all of the encouragement and belief in his work shown by his teacher, the late Howard Pyle. Wyeth is abig man physically, looks a little like Chester-

WEEKS TO CHRISTMAS
The Stores' Stocks are Still Unbroken; the Early Shopper Gets the Best Choice.

No tariff or currency legislation will be passed this session. No bond issue is contemplated either.

Representative Kitchen, Democratic floor leader of the House, says that President Wilson will win his fight for preparedness.

Republican Representative A. P. Gardner says in a letter to the New York World that "he would insist on a bond issue or a stiff dose of taxation, or both" in order to place the United States army and navy equal in power to Great Britain. "A stiff dose of taxation!" Surely the Republicans do not contemplate filching the pockets of the poor any more than they have and are filching them! A bigger navy and army means millions of dollars of expenditure to help only the men who make guns and powder. We need no defense. The Atlantic and Pacific Oceans are defenses greater than our armies and navies. Why get frightened at England! She hasn't even thought of war with us and she can't do much even when she declares war on us. We are too far away. Why tax the people to death and privation to do unnecessary preparing for something not even dreamed except a few who want to get rich by plundering the government, which is the people? When you are at peace with your neighbor, you don't go out and do military practice and arm yourself to the teeth for fear he will come and attack you. Humanity is beyond that stage and is in an era of peace. People who advocate preparedness for invasions of a neighbor when neighbors are at perfect harmony only show by outward expression what they inwardly feel inclined to do themselves. Can it be possible that we are going to show aggression along lines of ill repute and cast out to the thoughtful world our inward feelings of barbarism and savagery? We don't need any greater preparation. It would take England months to transport her army to this country even if unmolested and in the meantime we would be doing something to keep her busy and prevent her from taking us over easily. But why the talk; when we are with peace and we do not contemplate war?

One of the amusing incidents of the judicial campaign occurred with Simon H. Sell in his primary contest for judicial honors. Simon thought and thought and thought on his chances for the nomination. Each meditation brought him nearer to the decision that he was the man of the hour and that the only thing for him to do was to set himself right with temperance forces. So he came out in his announcement on that broad and liberal platform, "I am opposed to the licensing of the liquor traffic." That would please everybody and nobody objected to it seriously. Simon wore a broad smile for a few days when he thought he had captured the temperance people, for he must to have assumed that he was all right with the liquor crowd, he ventured to ask how they classed him, "liquor or anti-liquor?" The temperance folks replied that they classed him with the liquor crowd. This jolt of ingratitude was too much for him. He surveyed the heavens to search out the star of hope which betrayed him. Then he explored the region around his feet until he regained consciousness, when he asked why in the face of his illuminating statement they classed him as a liquor candidate. They replied his past record showed it, merely as an argument and makeshift.

Sell could not comprehend that no matter who ran, how honest, how moral or how temperate, against Judge Woods, he would be classed as a liquor candidate. That fact was beyond him and indeed, Sell himself, after paralyzing Judge Woods in every respect in the primary,

THE MUSICAL ENTERTAINERS

The personnel of The Musical Entertainers is as follows:

In Nebraska, where Miss Hockerson is best known, she is called the "child violinist." At the age of fourteen she gave complete violin recitals here in Lincoln, absolutely astonishing all musicians. There is nothing effeminate or weak about her playing. Her tone is really superior in breath and firmness to most men players. Miss Hockerson comes from a musical family. Her sister is a splendid pianist and her younger brother plays the violin remarkably well. Her mother is a teacher of the piano.

Miss Garten is not only an accomplished singer, but has a voice of great sympathy. She has rare gifts as a reader. She has appeared on Redpath Chautauquas during one entire season and scored big successes everywhere. Miss Garten has a world of enthusiasm, great ambition and wonderful powers. In appearance, she is decidedly striking, is natural and unaffected in her work.

Miss Ingram lives in Kansas City. Her talents were first shown in her work with the Kansas City Musical and Dramatic Club. This club is made up of more than a hundred and fifty people who have musical and dramatic ability. Her voice is a lyric soprano. Her most recent successes have been in musical comedy and light opera. She played the part of Lady Margaret Primrose in "The Skylark," Hazel Brown in "The Spartans" and the title role in "Mlle. Juliette."

The Musical Entertainers' program will be made up of ensemble numbers, solos, duets, trios, readings.

adopted the same slogan in the campaign against Mr. Bailey and swallowed everything he had said about Woods.

In the election Sell thought he could deliver his votes to Woods but he got fooled in that adventure. Kimmell Township was the only one which stuck to him in his dictation. He lost Bloomfield, Woodbury Township and came nearly losing Woodbury South, Sell's home district, all of which have been strongly inclined politically in Sell's favor.

To the People of the Twentieth Judicial District

I desire, through this medium, to thank that large army of voters who in the last election, in spite of most villainous and unfair attacks, cast their ballot for me.

I desire to thank also those men who without the expectation of reward, and unflinched by fear, so unselfishly devoted their time and energy in my aid.

I here and now dedicate myself to the public service in the high office to which the people of this district have called me, and I will, to the best of my ability, endeavor to make it the great instrument for good which it is intended to be among the institutions of a free people.

THOMAS F. BAILEY.

Correspondents and advertisers will kindly see that their manuscripts are in earlier next week since we go to press one day earlier on account of Thanksgiving.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing sound, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Store for Quality and Service

Cumberland Valley

November 17, 1915.—On last Saturday evening, November 13, a surprise party was given at Mr. and Mrs. John Gephart residence for Ada Luman, but the surprise was the guests as Ada and her friend left that evening and spent the evening elsewhere. So Ada gave the surprise. The evening was a pleasant one just the same. Various games were played and at a late hour refreshments were served, which were very much enjoyed. Those present were, Lenore Nave, Lulu Casteel, Lenore and Helen Doyle, Esby Snowden, Lena and Clara Elder, Ethel Isabelle and Estella Bortz, Sherman Nave, Guy Snowden, Alton and Ross Diehl, John Hafer, Ray Whip, Roy Rose, George Bortz, Christy Elder, Howard Deffenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nave, Mrs. O. P. Nave, two sons and Mr. and Mrs. John Gephart.

Mrs. Jacob Howsare who has been ill for some time at her home in Centerville is not much improved. The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wertz last Friday and left them a fine baby boy.

Mrs. Sue Casteel returned home Sunday after an absence of five weeks. She was accompanied by her brother, Mr. E. W. Nave and wife and daughter, Mrs. Wilson of Cumberland.

Saturday evening, at 4 p. m. Thurman Mauk of Centerville and Miss Ellen Kennel of Somerset were united in marriage at the Termer Hotel, at Cumberland. They arrived at the groom's home that evening about 7 o'clock. A crowd of serenaders gave them a glorious serenading and extended congratulations.

Mrs. Charles Deremer left Tuesday to spend some time with friends in Cumberland.

C. C. Bortz and family spent Sunday with friends in Cumberland.

For Wilson Not McCall

Bedford County will have to line up for President Wilson for re-election.

Last week notices in Huntingdon and Bedford County papers stated that Samuel W. McCall, who was elected Governor of Massachusetts at the last election, was born in East Providence Township, Bedford County, and spoke of him as an available candidate for the Republican nomination for President in case Theodore Roosevelt declined.

From the Philadelphia North American, second page, November 16, 1915, under Cumberland Valley items, we take the following:

"The election of Samuel W. McCall to be Governor of Massachusetts has delighted many Franklin County persons. Governor McCall was born and raised along the Warm-spring road, where his grandfather, Tine Elliott, kept a famous tavern. Already Franklin County admirers have taken hold of the McCall presidential boom. They can see no reason why a native Pennsylvanian should not be President again, and no reason why Franklin County should not furnish him, just as she furnished Pennsylvania's only President, James Buchanan."

After the contradictory statements as to the birthplace of McCall (see last week's county papers) the Governor may have a hard time proving his first residence, and may have difficulty in harmonizing the differences of rival delegations.

Save $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same), we will give free, one handsome set of ware as illustrated here, or a special set of ALUMINUM WARE.
Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

Which Shall It Be?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high-priced food with that old worn-out cook stove?You KNOW that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.You KNOW you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.Stop and think and figure. Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—THE GREAT MAJESTIC MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON RANGEYou make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTA-TION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—
MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos—parts being malleable can't break—has a movable reservoir and an oven that doesn't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning), heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, and costs practically nothing for repairs.Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen"; you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.Don't Overlook the Date. This is a special

We're Hammering Away At This Fact

FIVE BROTHERS is the best tobacco in the world for big, strong, manly men. It is made purposely to please this kind of man. It is a juicy, full-bodied tobacco that thoroughly satisfies a powerful man's tobacco hunger.

FIVE BROTHERS is pure Southern Kentucky tobacco, naturally aged for three to five years so as to bring out all its mellow, healthful richness and honest sweetness.

FIVE BROTHERS

Pipe Smoking Tobacco

Take the case of the blacksmith. When he wants tobacco satisfaction he cannot get it out of "flat," insipid mixtures. He has got to have a man's size, real old natural he-tobacco.

We have the greatest tobacco organization in the world and are in business to stay in business—by giving the best values. FIVE BROTHERS is only one of our many brands, but like all it is the "highest quality—biggest quantity" of its kind sold.

We tell the big brawny men of this country that FIVE BROTHERS is the best tobacco for them on the market and they know they can bank on that statement.

FIVE BROTHERS is sold everywhere—get a package today.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1915, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 21

JONAH A MISSIONARY TO NINEVEH.

LESSON TEXT—Jonah 3:1-10. GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I command you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.—Matt. 28:19, 20. R. V.

The story of Jonah is one of the most famous and most interesting in the Bible. In former series of lessons more extended use has been made of the book giving time to discuss its historicity and other questions involved. This time only one reference is used and that for the purpose of its missionary teaching. We accept the record of the book literally because similar facts are recorded in profane history but chiefly because of the testimony and the usage made of it by Jesus (see Matt. 12:40; 16:4 and Luke 11:30).

I. The Prophet Proclaiming, vv. 1-4. Jonah "paid the fare" (1:3) and "out of the depths" (Ps. 130:1) God delivered him that he might fulfill his God-appointed task. Even so the nation of Israel is today crying from out of the depths of its woe among the nations and will certainly be "delivered" when the king comes, that it may take its rightful place and fulfill its God-appointed tasks. It is a wonderful testimony of God's grace (vi) that God's word came to Jonah a "second time." Once he ran from God's command but God is the God of the gospel of a "second chance" and a third if only we repent and do his commands, but God does not give a "second chance" to the unrepentant (Num. 14:40-45). Verse two explicitly sets forth the message Jonah is to deliver even so we are to proclaim the Gospel (see I Cor. 15:1-4) not the speculations of men nor the subtleties of philosophy. The messenger of God will find his message in the word of God and will declare it. It is the word which reveals God's love, his plan of salvation, and the destiny of the saints. "By the foolishness of preaching" men will be saved. The word "preach" literally means "to cry out" or "call out" and implies that earnestness and insistence needful for a true advocate or witness of God. But the power is not in us; it is not the word of God mingled with the theories of men, or with such added to the word. The Bible is the soul winners true staff. Nineveh, vast magnificent and wealthy could not atone for its wickedness; its greatness only aggravated its condition. Jonah did not spend any time to acquaint himself with conditions or to do sight-seeing but cried, "yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown." When he explicitly and minutely obeyed and delivered God's message he at once aroused and arrested the attention of the city. He did not attempt to present "credentials," nor explain or defend his message. He did not seek to harmonize it with "current thought" nor give it a "modern expression." He was blunt and without compromise but gave an opportunity for repentance.

II. The People Penitent, vv. 5-10. Nineveh paid immediate heed to the man who did not slur over God's warning. Had the city continued in sin, it had not been delivered. Nineveh did four things and as a result they were saved: (1) They believed, "believed God" (v. 5). All true repentance is conditioned upon accepting God at his word (John 13:20). (2) They evidenced humiliation (v. 6). They gave such evidence by humbling themselves in the sight of God from the king upon the throne to "even the least." There was no apparent attempt to qualify or to evade God's decree, but rather to accept it and by taking a proper place in his sight be delivered from the penalty of their just deserts. (3) They prayed (v. 8; cf. 6, 7). Their prayer was intense. The kind of prayer that counts with God must also count upon God, and God "is slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy" (Neh. 9:17). Prayer that is effective is (a) grounded upon the word of God (b) forsakes sin and (c) obeys the will of God. (James 1:22; 2:17). (4) They made sacrifice (v. 8). Mere humiliation and prayer does not effect a remedy unless there is a merciless judgment executed upon sin. Did Jonah fail in his mission? No! for God's predictions of ruin are not absolute and unconditional (Jer. 18:7-10). Chapter four is the record of Jonah's petulance and of God's loving-kindness.

Nineveh continued for nearly 200 years subsequently but it was then so completely destroyed that for nearly 2,000 years its location was unknown and disputed though now yielding a rich harvest for the archeologist and Bible student.

Can a nation be stirred today? For answer witness Mott and Eddy in China. In 14 of China's chief cities during three months of 1913, 7,000 of the leaders of that nation enrolled as inquirers.

Have your class read carefully and prayerfully Psalms 2, Matt. 28:19, 20 (Golden text) and Rom. 1:16.

he originally addressed on the subject of preparedness, all of them signifying their dissatisfaction with the proposed program, believing, it unnecessary and imprudent. Moreover, said Mr. Bailey, "I have had many letters from people scattered all over the country, commending the stand I have taken and urging me to remain steadfast. Incidentally it may be remarked that I have got in touch with most of the branches of the American Peace society throughout the country and have received cordial assurances of active co-operation in spreading the light with respect to the sordid interests back of the jingo propaganda. It is gradually dawning upon the country that the munition makers are at the bottom of all this agitation for enormous additions to our military and naval establishments. My candid belief is, that the preparedness program will crumble and fall to pieces if subjected to the light of day. The people need only see the selfishness behind it to set upon it the seal of their disapproval."

Mr. Bailey refused to confirm the story that a conference of those agreeing with him is about to take place in Washington, but it is known that he is in touch with several men whose names are indelibly with the anti-preparedness movement and that these men are either in Washington or are expected to be here within the next day or two.

It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of, but without result."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment, Tonoline Tablets. "I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by use of Tonoline Tabs, so I decided to try them myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger or more 'nervy' in my life."

Tonoline Tabs are a powerful inducer to nutrition, increases cell-growth, food, increases the number of blood-corpuscles and as a necessary result builds up muscles, and solid healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a form builder and nerve strengthener. Tonoline Tabs cost $1 for a 50-days' treatment, as druggists, or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.—Adv. 5 Nov. 41.

Warren Worth Bailey Fights Preparedness

Representative Warren Worth Bailey of Pennsylvania, who has been more or less active in sounding out sentiment among Democratic members of the house on the issue of preparedness, has returned to the capital and is preparing to push his campaign against a program which he regards as a menace not merely to the future of the Democratic party, but to the welfare of the republic.

"While I am not positively advised that all of the Democratic members with whom I have been in correspondence and who assured me some weeks ago that they were opposed to increased expenditures on army and navy are of the same mind to-day, letters which have reached me recently lead me to believe that those who were antagonistic to military and naval expansion a month or so ago are still unfavorably disposed toward a program which contemplates the Prussianizing of this republic."

This statement was made by Mr. Bailey soon after arriving in Washington from his home in Johnstown.

"The people out my way do not take kindly to the plan of spending $450,000,000 on the army and navy next year," said the Pennsylvanian. "The attitude they held in September, when I traversed my district very thoroughly appears to be the attitude they hold now. The leading Democratic papers of the district are flat-footedly hostile to military and naval expansion. The Republican papers seem to be hoping that the extravagant program which has been framed up by the War Trust for presentation to congress will serve to split the Democratic party and thus open the way for a return of the Republican party to power. Very few if any of these papers are outspoken for a larger army and a more formidable navy. Their expressions on the subject are in the main so guarded as to suggest that they fear overtly to endorse a program which the people they serve do not look upon with favor. Great Glee possesses them, however, in contemplating the possible division which this issue will create in the party now in power."

Mr. Bailey stated that he has heard from a number of Democratic members in addition to those whom
